DETAILED ACTION

1. In response to the Office Action of November 29, 2002 the Amendment has been received on March 5, 2003.

Claims 1 and 5 have been canceled.

Claims 2-4 and 6 have been amended.

Claims 7-10 have been newly added.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2882

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Galando et al. (US Patent 6,374,937 B1).

With respect to claims 8, Galando discloses a mobile X-ray apparatus (12)(Fig. 1) comprising: a carriage (44 and 42) having at least one pair of independently driven driving wheels (48 and 50); motor means (54 and 66) for driving the driving wheels (48 and 50); a driving handle (174) movably mounted on the carriage; control means (170) responsive to the movement of the driving handle (174) for controlling the operation of the motor means to steer the carriage in a desired direction; release means coupled to the driving handle and to the motor means by which the motor means can be released from a driving coupling with the driving wheels by movement of the driving handle (170), allowing the wheels (48 and 50) to rotate freely and thus enable manual movement of the carriage and for causing braking of the carriage, when the carriage is moved manually, by a further movement of the driving handle (column 17; line 24 – column 19; line 21).

Art Unit: 2882

With respect to claims 9 and 10, Galando discloses the driving handle (170) has a range of motion for controlling the operation of the motor means, the release means and means for automatically positioning the driving handle in a center position when the grip on the driving handle is released (column 26; lines 7-43).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-4, 6 and 7 are allowed.

6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 2-4, 6 and 7 are allowed because prior art fails to disclose or make obvious a mobile X-ray apparatus comprising: a carriage having at least one pair of independently driven driving wheels; a driving handle comprising a pair of spaced side bars rotatably coupled to the carriage along an axis of rotation and a cross bar movable with the side bars, cross bar being coupled to and extending between the side bars in an articulated manner to allow turning movement of the respective side bars to different extents and in different directions about the axis; and controlling the motor means responsive to the electrical signals to steer the carriage in a desired direction.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Warden et al. (US Patent 5,081,662); Hanover et al. (US Patent

6,104,780) and Maschke (US Patent 5,835,558) disclose mobile X-ray exposure apparatus.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
